

This book showcases the systematic documentation of my bedroom's door every time it is locked, unlocked or left open

These actions have assigned symbols and commentary in some cases

date

locked the bedroom door ● checked if the door is locked – decided not to lock the door o

october

21

22

october

my brother opened the door ●

brought food to my room ●

○

october

23

- woke my brother up
- checked if he woke up
-

24

october

woke my brother up ● came home ●

october

25

26

october

cleaned my room o

october

In my room but I can still hear the screaming

Can't think of a day without screaming

All the time

Can hear footsteps towards my door

Listening in hope that they are not coming to me

Getting ready to open the door

Checking whether I look appropriate if they open the door themselves without knocking

That feeling of unsafety and exposure

october

27

– changed

28

october

went to bring myself food ● mom opened the dood herself ●
mom knocked on the door –
●
drove my parents home ●
–

october

29

•
•

30

october

went downstairs to print

october

I don't have my place

I don't have any privacy

They don't seem to understand that I need it and how much it's needed

october

31

-
- talked to mom
- greeted my dad

—

01

november

november

02

- mom actually listened to me and even seemed interested

03

november

november

I had a dream where my dad opened a locked hotel door by himself

Withought knocking

november

04

- I was made to go home

05

november

-
-
- brought myself food ●
-
- family week planning –

november

06

- bought myself nice clothes
-
-
-
- bringing food to my room as fast as possible so I won't hear any commentary on my way

07

november

mom opened the lock herself ●

all fought over family diner ●

november

08

- drove the family home

09

november

:

november

Extended family came to visit
My room is not mine anymore

There are 40 people in the house

november

10

●

—

●

● brought myself dinner

11

november

○

∅

november

12

-
-
-
-
- Ø

13

november

:

november

14

15

november

had dinner with the family ● brought myself tea ●
my brother opened the door ø
●

november

Everyone left and the room is mine now

november

16

o woke my brother up

17

november

november

It does not feel like a home to me
I am a guest here
It became a public place where I do not belong
I come home only to sleep and share it with other people

november

18

-
- house is filled with guests again

19

november

november

20

- brought myself food

-

-

-

21

november

woke my brother up ●
●

november

'I asked my mom to put a lock on my door right in the beginning when we were only building a house

But it is that kind of lock, you can easily unlock from the outside

At first I was locking the door and people kept unlocking it without my permission

Then I taught them to knock and not to invade into my personal space

They stopped doing that, but it is still happening sometimes

It is driving me crazy'

november

22

ø my brother woke me up

ø mom woke me up

●

● mom made me cry

—

23

november

november

24

•
•
Ø

25

november

november

26

●
Ø
●

27

november

:

november

28

29

november

november

30

- brought myself food
-
-
- talked about about marriage
-

Lesia Kuranova
2017